Personal Profile

Delivering value in roles ranging from product management, business analysis, design but mainly specialising in front-end and back-end development to build products customers love.

Dedicated to creatively analyse, design and invent technology solutions that solve real problems. I care passionately about providing tangible results, without sacrificing artistry and elegant design.

My persistent drive towards growth and knowledge motivates me to learn new technologies, adapt and grow, with a tremendous pace!

I really value progress. I am focused on leaving a legacy and living well examined life.
